

Data Protection and Privacy Concerning the PPI MIB Registration

Student, Citizen, their families, and Alumni Census for those Indonesian who live or used to live in Birmingham, United Kingdom. It requires essential information for census requirements.

Who processes your information?

PPI MIB is the data controller of the personal information you provide to us. This means PPI MIB determines the purposes for which, and the manner in which, any personal data relating to Student, Citizen, their families, and Alumni is to be processed.

Why do we collect and use your information?

With your permission, PPI MIB is allowed to collect and use personal data relating to Students, Citizens, their families, and Alumni and used for the following reasons:

- To support student learning
- To provide information of how many people living in Birmingham
- To inform user if there is related information, event, and many other occasion related to them

Which data is collected?

The categories of users information that PPI MIB collects, holds and shares include the following:

- Personal information – e.g. names, date of birth, addresses, etc
- Education – e.g. degree, university, course, funding, entry year
- Family (for student and citizen only) – e.g. name, relationship, date of birth, nationality, etc
- Emergency Contact Indonesia – e.g. name, phone number, relationship
- Emergency Contact in UK – e.g. name, phone number, relationship

Whilst the majority of the personal data you provide to the PPI MIB is mandatory, some is provided on a voluntary basis. When collecting data, the PPI MIB will inform you whether you are required to provide this data or if your consent is needed. Where consent is required, the PPI MIB will provide you with specific and explicit information with regards to the reasons the data is being collected and how the data will be used.

How long is your data stored for?

Personal data relating to users is stored in line with the PPI MIB's GDPR Data Protection Policy.

In accordance with the GDPR, the PPI MIB does not store personal data indefinitely; data is only stored for as long as is necessary to complete the task the data was collected for originally.

Will my information be shared?

PPI MIB will not share your personal information with any third parties without your consent, unless the law allows us to do so.

What are your rights?

Users have the following rights in relation to the processing of their personal data.

You have the right to:

- Be informed about how PPI MIB uses your personal data
- Request access to the personal data that PPI MIB holds
- Request that your personal data is amended if it is inaccurate or incomplete
- Request that your personal data is erased where there is no compelling reason for its continued processing

- Request that the processing of your data is restricted
- Object to your personal data being processed.

To make a request for your personal information, contact ppimi.birmingham@gmail.com

Where the processing of your data is based on your consent, you have the right to withdraw this consent at any time. Please contact on ppimi.birmingham@gmail.com with your details and we will record your removal of consent.

If you have a concern about the way PPI MIB is collecting or using your personal data, we request that you raise your concern with us in the first instance.

Where can you find out more information?

If you would like to discuss anything in this privacy notice, please contact ppimi.birmingham@gmail.com